The NYC Hip-Hop Theater Festival

NOW ACCEPTING SUBMISSIONS

The Hip-Hop Theater Festival is now accepting submissions for its upcoming festival season. We are seeking ensemble plays, solo works, dance-theater and inter-disciplinary theater works. We are accepting works for consideration for our festivals in: New York, The Bay Area, Chicago, and Washington D.C.

ABOUT THE FESTIVAL

In six years, the Hip-Hop Theater Festival (HHTF) has grown from a fledgling project into an independent non-profit organization with a National scope. With its full compliment of year round activities, the Festival aims to invigorate the fields of theater and Hip-Hop by: nurturing the creation of innovative work within the Hip-Hop aesthetic; presenting and touring American and international artists whose work addresses the socio-political issues relevant to the Hip-Hop generation; and serving young, urban communities through outreach and education that celebrates contemporary language and culture. CHECK OUR SITE FOR MORE INFORMATION: WWW.HIPHOPTHEATERFEST.COM

GUIDELINES ARE AS FOLLOWS:

We are accepting applications from: DECEMBER 1 2006 THROUGH MARCH 31 2007.

Because the festival is a presenter and not a producer, it is mandatory that all works submitted have been previously produced in some form -- a staged reading, workshop performance or full production. We are accepting submissions of theatrical, interdisciplinary and dance-theater performance pieces. The work will be considered for a main stage production, workshop production, and/or our staged reading series. Extra consideration will be given to ensemble work.

THE FOLLOWING IS TO BE INCLUDED WITH EVERY SUBMISSION:

- Script
- Submission Form (see attached)
- Bio / Production History

- Character Breakdown
- Synopsis of Work
- Video (if available)

SUBMISSION FEE: $25.00 per application
